Toronto, Ontario: Ontex Resources Limited announces that after 3 days of a scheduled 8 day trial, Ontex has emerged entirely successful. Ross McGroarty, a former director and officer, had commenced the action as a counterclaim seeking $1,016,497 in damages for constructive dismissal and other equitable relief. The Ontario Superior Court of Justice, yesterday, awarded the judgment in favour of Ontex dismissing McGroarty's counterclaim with costs payable to Ontex. By Order of the Court, the amount of costs McGroarty shall be obliged to pay Ontex shall be fixed by the Court on either May 2 or May 12, 2006.

In addition, Ontex obtained judgment on its claim for rental arrears in the amount of $14,794 plus interest and costs.

Any uncertainty as to the potential liability for Ontex created by this litigation has been eliminated by these judgments. Ontex can continue to focus all of its efforts on its business.
